Course Overview Bring Your Inner Happiness to the Next Level.

It's been scientifically proven over and over again: the number one key element common to happy people is the quality of their relationships. Nothing else is even close.

The quality of your relationships is the #1 indicator of the type of life you will experience. Much like your money blueprint, you will discover that if your relationship blueprint isn't set for success, you will struggle to maintain the relationships you have, and you will find it difficult to foster new ones. The Ultimate Relationship Retreat is bar none the most effective and transforming program. We will assess and change your relationship blueprint right on the spot!

Over 5 intensive days, some of the greatest experts in the world will provide you with the insight and direction to critically review, breakdown and improve all of your personal relationships. Couples and singles will receive different processes and coaching, while other lessons will be gender-based.

The Ultimate Relationship Retreat will help you strengthen your:

- Relationship with friends, romantic relationships and even your relationship with nature and the world.
- Family relationships, with kids and your parents (especially aging parents).
- Relationship with yourself, including body image and self-esteem issues and the ability to attract or retain a great partner.
- Ability to listen, acknowledge boundaries, resolve conflicts and effectively communicate what you want.
- Comfort and confidence to create and sustain passion.

Like our transformational summer Camps, this 'retreat' program will be adventurous and experiential, limited in size, and intended to be a catalyst for life-changing breakthroughs.

Bring your inner happiness to the next level by strengthening the bonds you have with the people you care about. The Ultimate Relationship Retreat is currently scheduled as a one-time only event; so don't miss this opportunity to create more meaningful communication, passion and balance in your closest relationships.

Important Items To Bring:

- Be prepared for walking outside on day one. Comfy shoes, hat, sunscreen.
- Clothes you would wear to a party.
- Bathing suit
- Comfortable clothes for morning movement each day.
- White outfit for closing ceremony (any white pants and a white shirt).
- We are in the desert but also inside where there is air conditioning, so please have a sweater/sweatshirt for when we are inside.

Important Travel Reminders

- If flying internationally, please remember that passports are mandatory and consider purchasing travel medical insurance.
- Check with your airline or travel agent for new identification requirements and carry-on baggage security constraints for toiletries and liquids.
- Drink plenty of water throughout the flight as jet lag is caused almost wholly by dehydration.
- Book and schedule your flights with plenty of time to arrive at the venue, check in to your hotel and/or course and be ready to begin on time.
- If you are planning to do any personal sight-seeing or visiting while at the course, plan these activities for after the course, rather than prior to or during.
